

COLE PORTER Theatrical Revue

Cole Porter Music from the Great American Songbook A Song and Dance Revue

Cole Porter's wit and playful style in lyrics and music will never find a challenger. He lived life to the fullest and imbued his music with sophistication, satire, verve and energy, all the while keeping a hearty appreciation for the subtle, the grandiose, the lively and the silly.

Porter was possibly the greatest popular song writer of the 20th century. Of the more than 800 songs he produced during his life, dozens have become standards and are still constantly being re-recorded today. Shortly before his death, Porter told a friend, "I don't know how I did it!"

Our cast of 9 features 2 couples and a "crooner" artfully singing and dancing their way into your hearts and your memories with a compilation of everyone's favorite songs from the Porter era. Spanning many decades of his work, you will hear show tunes and torch songs; up tempo escapades and wistful ballads. You will see some of the popular dances from the time. Let our Troupe entertain you following your event dinner or luncheon. Our musical compilation features standards such as "Let's Misbehave", "You've Got That Thing", "Let's Fall in Love" and such wonderful dance selections as "Night and Day" - made famous by the popular dance pairing of Fred Astaire and Ginger Rodgers; plus "It's De'Lovely" and "Anything Goes". There are more than 15 songs from over 10 of Porter's most popular Shows and Movies.
