

ALL YOU NEED IS LOVE, ACTUALLY Wedding Theatrical Revue

loveactually

A well-known Hollywood producer came to us to have this very famous scene from the movie "Love, Actually" developed, produced and recreated in Napa Valley for his daughter's wedding. (When you listen to the sound bite, you'll hear the Preacher pronounce them "Man and Wife"!)

Add a touch of Hollywood to your wedding with this cast of 20, and recreate, just for your bridal party, a re-enactment of the world's most famous wedding vow scene! The 2003 movie "Love, Actually" featured Hugh Grant, Liam Neeson, Emma Thompson, Keira McNightly, Colin Firth and a host of other top movie stars and introduced the now-heralded wedding scene where the bride and groom are surprised by their friends with a glorious musical "interlude" played out from the balcony of the church shortly after their "I Do's" are muttered.

You'll hear a brass choir and string quartet! You'll have your own choir of singers with their musical director and everyone in matching choir robes! You'll have your own featured male star singer to serenade you and your guests. From the minute your wedding organist plays the well known strains of Mendelssohn's exuberant Wedding March to "kick off" the first surprise moment of this delicious Hollywood Grand Finale, your guests will be awestruck with pure delight at this momentous occasion!

Add the bride and groom and "All You Need is Love, Actually"!!

*"and now may I present for the first time...
Mr. and Mrs..."*
